There are and such people will make us a happy but few secrets in private business community. that are honorable. A very little observation will convince any one that the class of men who, in common business transactions, are always working on the secret plan, and trying to keep their business out of sight, are generally scheming to get the advantage of somebody. We want no better sign of a grand rassel than to have a man talk in a half whisper about all business, or to see him playing hide-andseek in everything he does. And for a noble, proud government to stoop to such things is disgraceful in the extreme. Pinchbeck on the War Path. A letter from New Orleans dated March 23d says: "He blames Kellegg for his rejection in the Senate. Kellogg, he says, is tired of his Gubernatorial position, and desires to get back into the Senate, and will, if such a thing be possible, sacrifice him (Pinchbeck) rather than fail. If this is accomplished, he intends to have a split in the Republican ranks that will break down Kellogs, Grant, Williams and everybody else. He says if his interests are sacrificed and if the much-vaunted love of the Radicals for the negro fails in the test which it is now undergoing in his case he will tell all he knows, and, to use his own words, 'burst the whole con-From Pinchbeck's standpoint the "compromise is an attempt to choke him off. While in Washington he understood that Kellogg ingeniously hinted to the President that compromise might end in Casey's election to the Senate. This was done in order to engage Presidential aid, while in reality Kellogg was scheming to get the place himself. He says that he found out during his recent stay in Washington that all the Republicans he met, and they were the leaders and shining lights of the party, simply loved the negro as a voter and not as a man. That he has not the slightest doubt that several leading Republicans would have voted against his admission not because they cared about the legality or libegality of the Legislature that elected him, but they feared that he might put their Republican theories to the test by demanding social as well as political recognition.

This, in brief, is Pinchbeck's opinion. He is coming home to roost too near his white friends, and they are becoming very uneasy. The Postoffice has been again effered to him, with a guarantee that he shall remain in undisturbed possession for the remainder of Grant's term, if he will resign his elegious to ern.'" The letter goes on to state:

disturbed possession for the remainder of Grant's term, if he will resign his claims to the Senate; but up to present writing his friends advise him to decline.

PINCHBECK may as well empty himself now as any time; "tell all he knows" and "burst the concern," for they will never admit him into the they know. This threat of PINCH-BECK's implies that there is a dark history connected with the party which, if made known, would cause an explosion - "burst" things up. And still they come. The people are pouring into our county in great numbers. Each steamer from San Francisco comes crowded with passengers and the different lines of stages have all they can do. Many who come are only transient visitors, merely prospecting to see how they would like this for a home, but the great bulk of them are coming to stay. Some have been here before and have bought homes and have been back for their femilies. Others have come at a very families. families. Others have come at a venture and brought their families with a determination to drive down their stakes and live with us. We are glad to receive them, and hope they may be even better pleased than they anticipated. What pleases one man may not please another. Every country has some admirers. There are a class of people that believe the pine forests of North Carolina is next to Paradise; others who are delighted with Alaska. Such people would be very miserable in Los Angeles, and if any such are here they will be forever whining and pining for the dear old home they left behind. Hence it is a great responsibility to advise friends to break up and come here without first looking, And we would not advise them even Treasury Agents, Secret Detectives, to come and look, unless they bring and secret senatorial expeditions. This means enough to get away with if government, nor no other repectable they should not like it. The Alleghanians.

A Salt Lake exchange has the following notice of this troupe which will appear in our city Monday evening, the 12th inst.: A much larger audience greeted the Alleghanians last night than on the previous evening—an evidence of increasing interest in this most pleasing entertainment. The troupe appeared to as much advantage as on any former occasion. The new features of the programme were well received and heart- man for Risden, was taken from the ily encored. Noticably excellent was the duo "Say once Again," from Don Pasquale, by Miss Packard and Mr. Berjamin. The lady was in excellent voice and sang sweetly, and the gentlernan, always good, is one of the most valuable members of the troupe. In his original ballad, "Let me rest In his original ballad, "Let me rest where the loved ones are sleeping," he proved himself to be a composer of rare merit, as well as a fine musician. Among the new vocal selections given by Miss Marie Packard, was the beautiful song, "The Lover and the Bird," most effectively and tastefully rendered. It brought an encore, to which the lady gracefully responded. The solo and quartette, "Good night, God bless You," sung by the quartette and the words: How beautiful the home must be, where lov ing ones caress you,

And, after prayer, you always hear the sweet

The bell-playing, the silver orchestral band, the musical glasses and the songs and comicalities of Sam Collins were appreciated and many of them

Youthful Travelers.

The first desire that a boy has after he gets out of the trundle bed is to travel and the next desire is to enlighten mankind by writing for a newspaper. Boys that have good sense will write some very good items of information, but hoodium boys alsenate. He is a dull student or he would have learned long ago that the "much-vaunted love of the Radical party" would fail the negro when it is needed. It is a lesson they must all learn, sooner or later. Thousands, more apt than PINCHBECK, have already learned it, and, like sensible people, they cast their votes for men ways write nonsense. There is one of there are plenty of grizzlies in Califor-

New York, April 3d.—With the exception of an improved tone, the wool market remains as reported last week. Quite a number of manufacturers visit the market and their purchases, though only to supply immediate wants, have been sufficient to check the downward course of prices. If we except carpet stock, Fall California has found a more active demand

No less than 34,225 immigrants have arrived in California overland since April 1st, 1874.

Steamers and Railroad.

NEW YORK, April 7th .- The Tribune says it is rumored on Wall street that the Pacific Mail Company has discovered discrepancies in accounts in San Francisco and Hongkong which reduce the finances $378,000 below the estimate.

The Tribune says a bitter war has been inaugrarated between the Panama Railre ad and Union Pacific and Pacific Mali interests. When Sidney Diltor, became associated with the admir istration of the Pacific Mail, almost the first act was to endeavor to arrange a working basis which would be generally satisfactory. While rep-resentatives of several companies agreed that such arrangement would be desirable, yet there was such a conflict of opinion as to what would be a proper division of profits, that the conference ended. At the annual election of Directors of the Panama Railroad, on Monday, all the Pacific Mail representatives were dropped from the list. Immediately after the organization of the Panama directory, yesterday, the Panama Company passed a resolution giving notice to the Pacific Mail Company that at the end of ninety days the present con-tract regulating the division of profits would be abrogated. The Pacific Mail Directors caused word to be sent to the Panama Company that they would waive ninety days' notice, prefering that the contract should be abrogated at once, the intention being to ship Chinese freight over the Pacific rail-roads instead of by Panama, as now, allowing the Pacific Mail Company one-half the receipts for freight be-tween China and New York for all reight thus carried. The Panama Railroad people, not to be outdone, threaten the Pacific Mail Company with a rival line of steamers, which will be run in the interest of the Panama Company.

Terrible Explosion of Giant Powder

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8th.—Ad-joining the Hathaway brick ware-house, near the corner of Harrison and Spear streets, a small wooden building was used by Risden, the contractor, for storing and preparing cartridges of giant powder. An explosion occurred in this building yesterday afternoon, which caused a scene of ruin and confusion which it is hardly possible to fully describe. The office, a restaurant and two frame buildings adjoining, were blown into fragments. The walls of the ware-house on the East were crushed in and the warehouse, a large hay-barn en the opposite side of Harrison street and the debris of the frame buildings were all fired. The breaking out of fire in the ruins shortly after the explosion caused the greatest consternation. It was at once evident from the cries of the victims that a number of persons were buried under the debris of the fallen buildings and the utmost efforts were made to save them, but with only partial success. A man named Clark, fore-The bodies were removed to the Morgue. Several men, women and children, badly injured, were removed to St. Mary's Hospital for medical treatment; three of whom—Alexander Thompson, Wm. Knight and Henry Richards—are not expected to recover. Several others received severe, though not necessarily fatal, injuries. A number of persons were missing at last accounts and it is feared that they are buried in the ruins. The loss of goods in the bonded warehouse will not fall short of half a million dollars. It was filled with sugar, burlaps and ales, consigned to S. C. Merrill & Co.,

C. Adolphe, Low & Co., and Parrott & Co. The goods were insured by the consignees. Loss on the warehouse, consignees. Loss on the warehouse, $15,000; uninsured. The other losses will probably aggregate $30,000. There was a great scarcity of water, owing to the small-sized mains in that portion of the city, and the engines took water from the bay. It is thought that an abundant warehouse. thought that an abundant supply from the hydrants would have prevented much loss of property. The number of lives lost will probably be definitely ascertained this afternoon, when a thorough search of the ruins will be made.

The following is the list of persons killed by the explosion:
Fred. Haas, saloon-keeper. He leaves a wife and seven children. His body was not much disfigured. The bones were broken, and he was killed instantly. A man named Clark, fore-man for J. N. Risdon; burnt to a crisp. A colored man named Brown: taken from the ruins dead; not much disfigured. He was employed about the wharf as messenger. James Mc-Intyre; died shortly after being re-moved to the hospital. He was dis-charged from the navy a few days ago.

A portion of the trunk of a human body, supposed to be that of the driver of the Gas Company's truck, was re-covered from the ruins this morning. This is the fourth body recovered from the ruins, and with McIntyre, who died at St. Mary's Hospital last night, makes five thus far known to be dead. Parties are now engaged in searching the ruins, where it is supposed other bodies are buried.

Bodies Found.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8th.—A drowned man was found in the bay this morning at the foot of Third street. The body was removed to the morgue, but it has not yet been identified.

The body of Mrs. Andrews, a widow lady, living with her brother on Kentucky street, was found on the beach near Long Bridge this morning. Her brother is a conductor on the Bay View horse cars. When passing the house last night, she stood in the door and waved her hand at him. On his and waved her hand at him. On his return home she was missing, and nothing more was seen of her until her body was discovered on the beach this morning.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

The saloon-keepers' case will be de cided by Mayor Beaudry to-day. Only one solitary drunk in the May-or's Court yesterday.

The Constantine arrived at Wilmington yesterday. Fourteen saloons have been closed under the provisions of the $2,000 bond ordinance. Mr. I. W. Hellman left by the Orizaba yesterday for a nine months' visit to his Fatherland.

You could n't go anywhere yesterday but you found somebody spelling something.

Mr. Chas. Knowlton, late proprietor of the Pico House, left for San Francisco yesterday.

Mr. M. C. Baker has a number of the new lock-stitch hand sewing machines, which he will sell at a sacrifice

-$26 apiece. Worse and worse! Beside the spelling mania in San Diego, they have got puns. Can it be that we are com-

We learn that Mr. Weeks, formerly chisf clerk of the Pico House, will take charge of the hotel at White Sulphur Springs, Napa county, during the Summer.

The work of demolishing some old adobe buildings on Los Angeles street, between Commercial and Requena, was commenced yesterday, prepara-tory to the construction of a fine brick block by Mr. Requena.

Our enterprising merchant, Mendel Meyer, has returned from San Francisco, loaded down with the best stock of goods he ever purchased. It is wonderful, the amount of goods he sells.

sessments given and providing for the improvement of the street in question. The question of establishing the lines of Spring street was referred to the Board of Public Works.

At a meeting of the Los Angeles Guards, held Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected: Captain, D. W. Fitzpatrick; First Lieutain, D. W. Fitzpatrick; First Lieutenant, James Bartley; Orderly Sargent, Wm. D. Barnum; First-Duty Sargent, Thomas Boland; Second-Duty Sargent, Matthew Stamer; Third Duty Sargent, John Sullivan. Three Corporals are yet to be supplied by appointment. The election was special, to fill vacancies caused by the removal of the late Cantain L. J. Samoval of the late Captain, L. J. Sacriste, and the resignation of other

At Page & Gravel's carriage manufactory yesterday we saw an elegant single buggy, nearly completed, for ex-Governor Pio Pico. The running gear is silver-bronzed and delicately striped, making an extremely novel but tasteful finish. The body and top are of the finest material that can be procured and finished in a style to correspond with the other work. The buggy, when completed, will cost about $800, and we safely venture the assertion that no finer of its kind can be found in the State

Several parties have accused us of mis-spelling some of the catch-words in our report of the spelling-match of Wednesday evening. By way of explanation we will state that we were guided by Worcester—the standard taken in our office—and by that au-thority all of the words were printed thority all of the words were printed correctly. In this there was only one deviation from any other authorized orthography. Worcester gives daguerrotype and Webster daguerr(e)otype. The rest of the words, as sanctioned by both authorities, are sibyl, herbaceous, ichthyology, troubadour, coautchouc and tic-douloureux.

The Oriental Restaurant will be pened in Signoret's new building, opposite the Pico House, to-morrow, by Messrs. Flote & Cason. Both of these gentlemen are caterers of long experience and we expect from them called first-class restaurants. The dining rooms comprise a large hall for general accommodation and four private apartments for families and parties. All are fitted up in elegant style and furnish, together, probably the most retired and commodious establishment of the kind in the city.

Mr. Kirkpatrick, who lives on the corner of Fort and Fifth streets, had wo valuable sheep killed last Monday night by a vicious dog. The sheep were valued at $225 together, and this amount of property sacrificed by a brute not worth two cents, is a severe tax on good nature. There is an ordinance, we believe, among the dead letters of this city, which provides for the licensing and muzzling of dogs; and now that the Summer is coming on, the present is a most propitious time for its enforcement. Let us have a squad of policemen out administering hot applications of powder and lead to these renegade curs and the city will be better off.

"By the way," says a correspondent of the San Diego Union, "have you noticed what a hubbub this spelling mania has caused? A sad case of First-Class Agricultural & Fruit Land, domestic infelicity was developed in police court yesterday. An irate husband was brought up for assaulting his wife. He plead guilty, but asked liberty to state in mitigation that he and the partner of his joys had been having a little spelling-match. 'She made several small blunders,' said he, 'but when she insisted on spelling cow with a QI couldn't stand it any Sixth Day-Another Successful Day's Work-Nearly $22,000 for Land-Enough Land Left for one Day More-The Managers will Endeavor to Close out the Last Piece To-day-Grand Total of Sales to Date about 8140,000.

The unprecedented success which has attended the Artesia sales from the very first day to the present was fairly illustrated on the grounds yesterday. The excursion was the largest yet had, and was composed of a larger number of bidders than usual. The bidding was lively during the greater portion of the day, and the results were satisfactory to all concerned. At the close of the day's work the managers found that they had about five hundred acres of land left, and upon the earnest solicitation of many who still desired to make purchases, they concluded to extend the sales one day more, and hence the usual excursion train will leave this morning at 9:30 A. M. There are more tickets now out than there have been for either of the former excursions, and to-day bids fair to be the big day of the sales. While this is true, it must be remembered this is true, it must be remembered that a large number of persons are now supplied with all the land they want, and hence the competition is not likely to be so lively. The association bought the land, however, to sell, and hence will let it go to-day, when the war in for expenses. even though the margin for expenses and profit is very small. For this reareported recommending that Don Felipe Lugo be granted the privilege of irrigating from the new flume in zanja No. 7. Report adopted.

The Committee on Finance reported in favor of giving the contract for printing and binding the codified ornances to the Herald Publishing Co. Report adopted, and the City Attorney instructed to draft a contract active the sale. Following are the figures of vesterday's sale:

at a very handsome advance.

The solid foundation of real estate in Los Angeles county is well demonstrated by the late purchase of a half interest in the above-named ranch by Mr. I. W. Hellman. Mr. Hellman is one of the shrewdest and most far-seeing bankers of Southern California, and on the eve of his departure for Europe he saw no better investment for $150,000 of his surplus capital than to put it in solid ground, where bulls and bears could not break through and steal. The entire ranch contains some steal. The entire ranch contains some 35,000 acres, beautifully situated in the Spadra valley, six miles East of Spadra and within three-quarters of a mile of the railroad. Ten thousand acres of Mr. Hellman's purchase is moist land and capable of producing anything that grows in semi-tropical California. The whole tract is well watered by streams from the adjacent mountains and foot-hills, and beside has numberless springs flowing the year round. less springs flowing the year round. Heretofore it has been devoted to pasturage, but it is capable of much better things, and we expect some day to see it divided into small farms and under the best state of cultivation. In any event Mr. Hellman's purchase must be régarded as a shrewd invest-ment, and we doubt not that it is well worth half a million doilars.

Personal.

J. B. Tombes, D. D., formerly President of Carleton College, Ohio, called upon us yesterday. The Doctor resigned his position in that institution on the 24th of March last, and came directly to this county, and is now a resident of the vicinity of Anaheim, having bought land in advance of his coming. He is a minister of the Baptist Church and proposes to preach in this city on Sunday, the 18th instant. At Chandlerville, Sierra county, California, a Chinaman, employed by California, a Chinaman, employed by a Chinese company, was given some amalgam to retort. When he returned the amalgam retorted, the bosses were not satisfied with the quantity, and at once concluded he had stolen some. They took him away over to the South side of Stone creek and tried the experiment of hanging him up by the great toes. He remained thus suspended until he was nearly dead. He brought suit against his inquisitors in a Justic's Court, but after the case had progressed a day or two he departed and could not be found. This, of course, brought the action to a standstill.
